BEHIND THE REDGIANT

Behind the RedGiant is an instrumental band that offers a sound experience through long melodies loaded with melancholy, so many times frantic, that resolves and transforms itself into times to breathe, with a cleaner sound, transporting us far away, inwards. They embrace various influences that they do not hide, such as rock or metal, but they are themselves.

The voice, if there was a voice, would be theirs – of decisive, powerful drums, assertive in the details, accompanied by a coherent, firm, and honest bass. From sorrowful and enraged guitars, coexisting in and between harmonies.
